The final statement of 1889 was included $5,000,000 worth of manila, sisal grass and jute, which were mabila, sisal grass and jute, which were admitted free to a similar amount in 1890. Excluding this change alone, the imports of other dutiable articles as a whole increased more than $5,000,000, increase appearing in chemicals, cotton goods, arthernware, fruits, fors, glass, iron and other metal manufactures, leather manufactured, silks, vegetables, and manufactures of wood, but not in wool or tobacco or manufactures of either. In these there

Not even in these items was there any suppression of foreign trade. The fraudalent importation of tobacco, pretended to be not fit for wrappers but which was so intended and used, has been to a great extest stopped. So the fraudulent importa-tion of wool, pretended to be for carpets though really used for clothing manufac-ture, has been checked. Yet the actual esports of wool were $1,951,760 people in the last quarter of 1890, against 30,232,355 in the last quarter of 1899. In manufactures of wool there was a decrease of 1,100,000 pounds fraudulently imported as waste in 1889, and a considerable dec a yarna, and imports of wool cloths were may half as large in 1800 as in in 1800, and 48 (rest goods after October 6 a small dereins superred, these changes giving anierisans a larger demant for their labor.

went into force agents of foreign makers began to offer goods of hundreds of classes ere at precisely the old prices, duty paid that is, in order to sell at all they reduced their prices to the extent of the duty, and paid the whole duty themselves. The sales have nevertheless been somewhat smaller of woolen goods, because the home manufacture is already beginning to supply the demand better than before. Many kinds of goods which the foreigners could not or would not reduce in price are now already supplied almost exclusively from American works, though such goods were not made at all or but little in this country

To the :gnorant or wilfully blind free pound; price in 1879, 7.95c, per pound; trader it seems incomprehensible that the home manufacture can get any bearfit, if the price is not higher, and if in many classes the quantities imported are as ye not greatly diminished. Nevertheless. the American manufacturers realize the We have before us the letter of a Balti- difference, and so do the workers in the more house dealing in canned goods cans mills, for they are working full time. The addressed to one of the canning industries secret is that the range of articles which in Maine, in which it is stated that "tin American manufacturers can now make has come down to a very low basis." The with profit has largely increased, because Post is a persistent liar, but it will have to there is more security against the underselling by which foreign makers could formerly drive Americans out of business We thought the Connected would not care to face an application of its nonsensitive leaf to cost $2, for illustration, if cal reasoning concerning free potatoes, and hence it is not surprising to find it respective behind one of those meaningless. the foreign makers used to have the foreign makers used to have more than that profit, which moval of the duty on agricultural products would be a disastrous blow to give the most of that former profit to to the great county of Arostook, the Government, horder to sell here at all, as it is right on the and cannot undersell American competi-

Much was said, also, of the coormous quantities of woollen goods put into wareiouse before the new tariff went lato effect, but the truth is that the woodlen goods in warehouse were only $1,000,000 more in value December 31, under the new tanff, than at the end of the preceding Weeks as affording justification for the $5,289,578. The merchants and manufacturers were both agregiously emposed. upon wher large stories were told of the frightful consequences in the annuey mar be obliged to take their goods out of warehouse and pay duty on them. It may be that phost stones from that quarter will hereafter be received with less teredulity.

turns in the Bank's Books.

PHILADELPHIA, May 15. Gideon W. Mars, president, and Charles W. Lawrence, assistant cashler of the suspended Keystone National Bank, were given a partial hearing before United States Commissioner Beil this afternoon, charged with making false returns to the comptroller of the currency as to the condition of the bank.

with making false returns to the combine troller of the currency as to the condition of the bank.

Bank Examiner Drew told a startling story of deception practiced by the accused officials in their endeavor to cover up the shortsge in the bank's cash.

He said he made examinations of the books of the bank about twice a year, generally in January and July. Marsh and Lawrence would remove from the "Individual Deposits Ledger" whole leaves, which were re-inserted after an examination.

The effect of this work would be to show that the deposits were much less than they must have been necessary to get the leaves back in the book correctly.

Altogether the present deficiency amounts to $168,000. The witness told how Messrs, Marsh and Lawrence acknowledged to him their manipulation of the bank's books and it was upon this acknowledgement that warrants were obtained for their arrest.

but this was an unprofitable transaction. Had the Russian dechand been met by the withdrawl of gold from London and Berlin the rate of discount of the banks of these cities must have risen six or seven per cent. Under the present state of affairs this would simply mean ruin to thousands. We avoided it by buying American gold."

When asked what Russia wanted with all this gold and in reply to the question, "is she preparing for war?" Herr Bis ichrodel said:

Experts have diagnosed his case, and state that it is the result of overwork. His position has been gained at the expense of my vitality, his longevity, his line force. Now he is nervous, restless, stepless, with a feverish fedding, and has periodic headaches. This trouble is the penalty paid by enterprise, ambition and activity. Is it worth the prive?

His dangerous condition, at less controlled, will some run into a condition of hereous prostration worse than death itself.

His dangerous condition, in less controlled, will soon run into a condition of increvous prostration worse than death itself. There will be a difficulty in thioslog, trouble in retrembering the names and faces even of friends, and loss of control of the muscles of the legs.

His distressing condition has been the chief topic of conversation in political and club cirries, and a physician in speaking of it, said. "Too often the victim or this terrible condition seeks to overcome these symptoms by stimulants. Nothing could be worse. Its system needs southing, toning, and building up, something ansula is demanded. I remember the case of a friend of inne, a man who is prominent in Wall street. He had this same trouble, and when stimulants made him worse, be intried to Pane's Celery Compound which I recommended. He soon found his nervous system in better stope, appetite retuined, his sleep was resting and retresching, and he was resting and retresching, and he was restored to his lormer vigor, energy, and vitainty. HIS SECCESSOR.

"I understand that in the present case which New Yorkers are discussing, the medical adulgers have just commenced the use of Parke's Celary Compound, and I am confident that our eminent friend will soon be restored o health and vigor, and be able to do, if anything, even more work than before. I make this section bridly, for I believe that this Compound is uble to deliver men and women who are suffering from weakness of any kind, nervousness, nervous prostration, or general defility, and restore them to perfect health, perfect vigor, ambition, and strength."
